Cacapon State Park was constructed by the Civilian Conservation Corps as part of the New Deal Act under FDR. It officially opened July 1, 1937. Most of the construction of the park took place in the early 1930's by CCC workers, with additional construction of cabins and the lodge in the 1950s. The famous Robert Trent Jones Sr. golf course was added to the park in 1974, advancing it to the status of a resort park. The park's New North Lodge was opened on May 1, 2021 and the original (now South) lodge renovations were completed in May of 2022. Prospects Restaurant derives its name from the historical significance within the park. As a young man, George Washington worked as a surveyor in the area. He surveyed a rocky outcropping on the north end of Cacapon Resort State Park called Prospect Rocks. From this view you can see two rivers and three states, and it provides a majestic view of the Potomac and Great Cacapon Valleys. Prospects Restaurant provides a variety of delectable menu options year round.
